

PRINCIPAL SPEAKER of the 7th INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON ENERGY

Dr. Hans-Wilhelm Schiffer is the Executive Chair of the World Energy Resources programme of the World Energy Council, London. He spent more than 20 years working for the RWE group in Essen, Germany, where he held various positions. He left his position as head of RWE's General Economic Policy/Science department in April 2014, but continues to work for RWE as a consultant and advises the Executive Board on issues concerning international energy policy matters, in particular.

Born in 1949, Mr. Schiffer studied economics at the University of Cologne and at the Pennsylvania State University. Between 1974 and 1978, he served as scientific assistant at the Institute for Energy Economics of the Cologne University. After a nine-year career with the Federal Economics Ministry, including a period with the British Department of Energy, he moved in 1987 to work with the Federal Ministry for the Environment, Nature Conservation und Nuclear Safety. Following his role as personal assistant to the parliamentary state secretary, Mr. Schiffer was appointed head of the Product-Related Environmental Protection division of the Federal Ministry for the Environment, Nature Conservation and Nuclear Safety.

Dr. Schiffer is a visiting lecturer for Energy Economics in the Mineral Resources Engineering master's programme at RWTH Aachen University. He is also the author of the standard work Energiemarkt Deutschland. The 14th edition of this book was published in November 2016 (in German) as yearbook 2017.

